

Evaluate exam

After scanning, you can view the status of your exam in the exam list of your user account. Click on Verification in the Status column to manually check the uncertainly recognized crosses. The following list shows you the exams that require verification. Click on the yellow pencil to start the verification process.

If you have selected to grade open-ended questions online, the status of the exam will now change to Grading. Click on Grading in the Status column to answer the open-ended questions. Here, you can also access previously stored solution texts and add comments to the evaluation, which will later be visible in the participant report. To remove a single question from the overall evaluation, you can assign the maximum number of points to the question. However, this change cannot be undone.

When awarding points online for open questions, it is possible to use stamps to mark the original scan or add text. This allows, for example, deductions of partial points or points awarded to be noted directly on the participant's original sheet, making them immediately visible during discussion.
